time to B wine #3 — october 2018

“For many lovers of great bottles, wines from the Domaine de la Romanée-Conti are one of the noblest expressions of Burgundy Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. This private collection of DRC is altogether admirable for the quality of the crus and vintages that compose it, and the sale “Domaine de la Romanée-Conti: the secret cellar of an European collector” is a unique opportunity to enhance your collection of perfect-origin DRC wines.”

Michael Ganne,
Executive Director of Baghera/wines

An extract of the magazine published by Baghera/wines “time to B wine #3, Burgundy Dreams”, issue dedicated to the December 2018 auction.

ORIGIN

All of the wines in this auction have been most carefully inspected and authenticated. The lots bearing the mention “Purchased by the vendor directly from the Domaine” have an original invoice from the Domaine, invoices which have been verified by Baghera/wines. The lots without any mention of provenance were bought mainly in the 90’s, directly from two highly respected auction houses, according to the Livre de cave.

PRESERVATION

These wines have remained untouched in the vendor’s cellar since having been delivered directly from the Domaine after purchase, and were peacefully resting there until Baghera/wines arranged their shipment and delivery to the Geneva FreePort, in July 2018. Stored in a perfect temperature and humidity-controlled cellar, most of them in their original wooden cases, the appearance and colour of the wines are resplendent and quality is truly sublime!

TRANSPORT AND GENEVA FREEPORT

The wines were transported from the vendor’s cellar to the Geneva FreePort in a specially chartered, temperature-controlled truck. All the wines are currently stored under ideal temperature and hygrometric conditions.
