Baghera/wines

Baghera/wines is offering a new sales format this season in the form of direct online, live-streaming, Kipling sales – a dynamic alternative to physical sales rooms and one to which Baghera/wines continues to apply the principles that are the foundations of its physical sales: irreproachable provenance, quality of expertise and exceptional lots. For bidders, this represents an enjoyable moment that is sure to become a must in the calendars of wine lovers and the discerning collectors alike.

Lot #13, the sale's top lot, a set of 6 Domaine René Engel, Grands Echezeaux 1995 magnums, was sold to an online bidder for CHF 48,800.

Michael Ganne, Executive Director and Auctioneer at Baghera/wines, commented on the sale: “We had significant participation from online bidders for this first capsule Kipling sale of the year, and the new format was a success with the rarity and quality of the 48 lots we offered whet the appetite of discerning collectors. Domaine René Engel wines have been attracting increasing interest from rare wine lovers for almost three seasons. Because the appeal of wines such as those from Domaine René Engel that are becoming rarer is confirmed, Baghera offered a carefully calibrated sale, rich in rarities and – the most important point for Baghera/wines – with almost perfect provenance. We would like to thank the seller for his trust, and his endorsement once again confirms that our Maison is the ultimate destination for aficionados of rare and exceptional wines.”
